

Brief bio-data of Dr. R. K. Murali Baskaran, Principal Scientist (Agricultural Entomology)

Dr. R. K. Murali Baskaran, Principal Scientist (Agricultural Entomology) of ICAR-National Institute of Biotic Stress Management, Raipur, Chhattisgarh has served for 31 years in teaching, research and extension of Agricultural Entomology at Tamil Nadu Agricultural University, Coimbatore and ICAR-NIBSM, Raipur, Chhattisgarh. He acted/acting as Professor and Head, Department of Agricultural Entomology, Agricultural College and Research Institute, Madurai during 2011-13 and section in-charge of Entomology and Nematology at ICAR-NIBSM, Raipur since 2017. Guided 14 M. Sc. (Ag.) and two Ph. D. theses in Biological control. Handled 13 externally funded projects on Biological control to the outlay of Rs. 92 lakhs, sponsored by DBT, NMPB, BCIL etc. and published around 125 research papers in Biological control and Chemical Ecology. Applied one technology for India patent. Received Best Researcher Awards twice from TNAU, Coimbatore. Google citation index: Citation: 519; h index: 10; i10 index: 13. Orcid: <http://orcid.org/0000-0002-0695-8389>.